Isn't it sad that so many believe that 'effort' is the same thing as 'struggle'? And even sadder that they believe that 'struggle' is necessary for them to achieve anything of value? Isn't it unfortunate that we are conditioned to believe that 'money is the root of evil', and then lament that we live in lack?

What you believe, shall Be. What you believe, is what determines your life. "Change your beliefs. Transform your life."

You shall receive, via Email, a complete manual that explains

Common harmful beliefs that often go unnoticed

How beliefs can pose hurdles

How to identify non-productive and harmful beliefs

How to work on the beliefs that come in the way of your happiness

You shall also receive audio meditations/energy exercises that shall facilitate the review and release of non-useful beliefs.

To inquire about the energy exchange please email me. Please state clearly whether the remittance shall be made in INR or USD as energy exchange differs. Available to www.jadefirelight.com subscribers at a special rate. (If you are a subscriber please use the Code "JFWEB" in the subject when you email me.)
